

Future Perfect Continuous Tense Sample Exercises PDF

Exercise 1: Rewrite the following sentences in the Future Perfect Continuous Tense.

1. She will have painted the house for a week by next Monday.
2. They will have played basketball for hours when we join them.
3. I will have written this report for three days by Friday.
4. He will have fixed the car for a while before it runs smoothly.
5. By the time the concert begins, the orchestra will have rehearsed for two hours.

Answers:

1. By next Monday, she will have been painting the house for a week.
2. When we join them, they will have been playing basketball for hours.
3. By Friday, I will have been writing this report for three days.
4. Before it runs smoothly, he will have been fixing the car for a while.
5. By the time the concert begins, the orchestra will have been rehearsing for two hours.

Exercise 2: Formulate questions using the Future Perfect Continuous Tense based on the given prompts.

1. (you / work) at the company for how long by the end of the year?
2. (they / travel) for how many hours when they arrive at their destination?
3. (she / swim) in the pool for how long by the time we get there?
4. (you / learn) the language for how many months by the time you visit the country?
5. (I / exercise) at the gym for how many hours by the time you join me?

Answers:

1. How long will you have been working at the company by the end of the year?
2. For how many hours will they have been traveling when they arrive at their destination?
3. How long will she have been swimming in the pool by the time we get there?
4. For how many months will you have been learning the language by the time you visit the country?
5. For how many hours will I have been exercising at the gym by the time you join me?

Exercise 3: Turn the following negative sentences into positive sentences in the Future Perfect Continuous Tense.

1. She won't have been practicing the violin for long when the concert starts.
2. I won't have been studying for very long by the time the test is over.
3. They won't have been working on the project for a while when it's completed.
4. I won't have been playing the piano for very long when my teacher arrives.
5. He won't have been sleeping for hours when the alarm goes off.

Answers:

1. She will have been practicing the violin for a while when the concert starts.
2. I will have been studying for the entire duration of the test.
3. They will have been working on the project for a while when it's completed.
4. I will have been playing the piano for a while when my teacher arrives.
5. He will have been sleeping for a few hours when the alarm goes off.

